A Note from our Head of School

Dear CAA Community,

The Chicago Academy for the Arts celebrated its 30th Anniversary during the 2011-2012 school year. Special events put the students on the stages of the Goodman and Harris Theater's, two of Chicago's finest venues, and civic and arts leaders came together to raise over one-half million dollars for CAA's educational programs and immersing artists scholarships. These were important activities for the school as they introduced CAA's students to a broader audience.

When people see our students perform they are immediately impressed by their artistic ability, intelligence, and maturity. Those of us within the CAA community are also aware of the role that the environment and culture of CAA plays in developing our students. Everyone at CAA must support the culture of the school to ensure that the values of intellectual curiosity, passion for the arts, and respect for one another remain at the core of CAA's education.

As we conclude the 30th Anniversary year of the school, we thank the senior class whose consideration of others and example of hard work and dedication helped to promote and sustain the ethos of CAA. From the student-directed AIDS Benefit, to rigorous academic courses and senior presentations, this class exhibits the qualities that are necessary to succeed at CAA and in life.

On behalf of the board of trustees, faculty, staff and students of the Chicago Academy for the Arts, I extend a very special thank to everyone who helped make this a fantastic year for CAA. And to the class of 2011, we wish you the very best that life has to offer.

Sincerely,

Pamela Jordan
Head of School
